

California: Birds and Scenery

Come and listen to ornithologist Bob Quinn share his knowledge of this great state!

California has the most diverse wildlife of any state in the country and this show will sample that bounty from the dramatic northern coastline and it's Redwood trees, across the rugged mountains, out to sea off Monterey Bay, to the San Diego coastline and on to the surprising, bird-thronged, oasis of the Salton Sea.

These areas abound with birds and other wildlife and the plant life is even more amazing than the birds.

Spectacular scenery, tens of thousands of sea birds, the largest living organisms on earth, volcanoes, huge flocks of wintering water birds...and that is just the beginning.

Thursday, March 15, 7:30 pm.
The Loon Center on Lees Mill Rd.
Moultonborough.
Handicapped accessible.
Contact: The Loon Center at 476-5666